A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, "sinking" or "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more harmlessly than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

Would not Invite a White Minister.

The Virginia Baptist State convention (colored) closed in Staunton Saturday to meet next year at First African Church of Newport News. Rev. B. F. Fox caused a little breeze by opposing the recommendation of the president to send a delegate to the southern Baptist convention, which meets in Richmond this week.

"I never invite a white minister in the town where I preach to occupy my pulpit," shouted Dr. Fox, who is from Salem, "because they cannot invite me to their pulpit. I do not intend to pull after a white man's coat tail. I have nothing to do with white people. If I were informed that the Lord Jesus was going to preach in some of the white churches of this country I would not go there, because I could not afford to go to a place where I would have my manhood insulted by being shoved off in the gallery or put on a back seat. I am not obliged to go where I am not wanted. Let us be separate and have things for our own comfort."

Some others objected to being sent on account of "jim crow" accommodations, but President Bowling said if they would delegate him he would go, "because I think we should show our appreciation to the white Baptists for the help they have given us. The white Baptists of today are assisting in the great work of lifting up the negro."

Pranks of Lightning.

The first thunderstorm of the season at South Norwalk, Conn., Saturday morning was a peculiar one. Lightning knocked every pane of glass out of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Low, and tossed Mr. and Mrs. Low out of their bed. They were shocked, but not injured.

The hennery of Addison Brown, on the same street, was struck and half of the several hundred fowls killed. The other half was left alive, but stripped of feathers. Many of the hens were blinded and some seemed crazy.

Another bolt tore through the barn of James Beers and left a hole through which a team of oxen can be driven A stone wall was struck and scattered like so much popcorn. Numerous fissures opened in the ground. One was deep and big enough to bury a horse in.

Another bolt went through James Beers' house, opening holes in the side as though the house had been under bombardment with solid shot. Miss Edith Beers was stunned and seemed paralyzed for a time.

Several fires resulted, but were extinguished and further damages prevented.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Trouble of the stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys, as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free Book now. Dr. Shoop's Restorative sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

Third Attack Upon Young Woman.

Miss Bert Caruthers, a young woman of about 21 years, living with her parents near the Virginia Christian College, in the West End, of Lynchburg, was the victim of an attempted assault Saturday night by a white man. She made a plucky fight, and after being dragged a considerable distance managed to frighten him off by arousing the residents about the college by her screams.

Miss Caruthers had her shirtwaist almost torn from her, and she has scratches and bruises about her face, throat and wrists. She returned from a visit to a neighbor's home about 10:30 o'clock, and as she started to enter the front door of her home the man came out of a window on to the veranda and attacked her.

This is said to be the third attack of this nature made upon Miss Caruthers in the last year, but the former cases were hushed up in dread of publicity, and as far as is known the attack Saturday night has not been reported to the police, despite the fact that she stated to her friends that she thought she knew the man.

He Fought at Gettysburg.

Davis Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alterative and body builder; sure cure for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists, 50c.

Turkey Blocks Japan.

The pourparlers by which Japan is seeking to established diplomatic relations with Turkey and the location of a Japanese ambassador at Constantinople, have encountered a rather serious stumbling block. Japan wishes to be treated on the same footing as the great powers of Europe with respect to the "capitulations" by which Turkey gives foreign powers certain supervision over her internal affairs, including schools, missions, consular courts, etc. The Porte is firmly opposed to conceding these privileges to Japan, as all the efforts of Turkey within recent years have aimed at the restriction, and ultimate abolition of these privileges to foreign powers.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 13, 1907.

THE SON born Friday to King Alfonso and Queen Victoria, according to a decree of the Spanish government, will bear the title of Prince of the Asturias. The principality of the Asturias was formerly the mountain refuge of the aboriginal inhabitants of Spain, who remained there, unconquered alike by Roman and Moor. In many respects it is regarded as the cradle of the Spanish monarchy. Few European countries have been more subject to revolutions and dynastic disturbances than Spain, and in none is direct and unchallengeable succession to the throne of greater importance. The birth of this prince is therefore of happy augury for the permanence of the dynasty and for continued peace of the realm. International interests are by no means lacking. Queen Victoria is a British princess—the first such married to a Spanish king for many years—and the next King of Spain, therefore, will be of half British blood. There is great rejoicing in Spain, and on personal and political grounds alike the appeal to the sympathetic interest of other nations is irresistible.

THE report of the Interstate Commerce Commission covering the months of October, November and December, 1906, gives the number of railroad collisions and derailments during that period as 3,965, of which 501 affected passenger trains. The number of passengers and employes killed was 474, of which 180 were passengers, the largest list on record for any quarter, excepting that ending with September 1904. The total number of casualties to passengers and employes on duty was 20,944. The compilation of causes of forty noteworthy train accidents showed that in twenty-one cases the disaster was directly traceable to carelessness, error of judgment or negligence on the part of railroad employes. This condition of affairs will continue till the several States enact laws holding railroad employes responsible for damages which may result from their negligence.

TO PUT Senator Foraker out of political life is the intention of President Roosevelt. He will do everything possible to prevent not only Foraker's re-election to the Senate, but also to keep him out of the republican convention next year, if the Senator shows the least desire to become a delegate. He holds that the Ohio Senator misrepresents the people of Ohio and that it is the duty of the administration to do what it can to retire him. Mr. Roosevelt wishes to make an object lesson of those who oppose him and it is getting so now that but few men in his party have the temerity to do so.

FORMER GOVERNOR PENNYPACKER, of Pennsylvania, still insists that the Capitol of that State received full value for every dollar of the $13,000,000 despite the startling disclosures made by the Capitol investigating commission, which were to the effect that the contractors were paid from fifty to one thousand per cent. more than they should have received for everything they furnished. Gov. Pennypacker doth protest too much.

THE RAIL manufacturers and the railroads are to name a commission which will determine whether the quality of rails needs improving. It is hoped that a better quality will be decided upon and that in this way there will be fewer broken rails by which so many accidents occur.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, May 13.

Senator Foraker's announcement that he will not regard as binding upon either himself or his friends any action that may be taken by the Columbus conference of republican State leaders on Wednesday is received with indifference by friends of Secretary Taft here. Even the possibility that the conference may be called off is viewed with unconcern by them, so confident do they feel over the Ohio situation so far as it concerns their champion. It is pointed out that the so-called harmony conference was not asked for by friends of Taft. It was called by the Foraker people, with the evident purpose of trying, under the plea of party harmony, to force through resolutions endorsing Foraker for the Senate, and Harris for the governorship, as well as Taft for the presidential nomination. The friends of the Secretary of War claim that it was in reality an effort to save Foraker by attaching him to the Taft boom and constituted a frank recognition by the State machine of the fact that it had been beaten in its project to have Foraker delegates sent to the next republican convention. Already it has been demonstrated, they say, that this programme could not have succeeded, and that a resolution endorsing Foraker in the same breath with Taft would be beaten in Wednesday's conference. They believe that Foraker himself has at last realized this, and they charge that this the real reason for the issurance of his defiant statement last night.

Confidential information obtained by the scientists of the United States Geological Survey, is to be safeguarded by an "honor" system, according to an announcement by the new director, Gen. Otis Smith. The possibilities for graft in this work, and consequent loss to land owners throughout premature revelation of facts of a confidential nature of which the scientists become aware, as they travel throughout the country, have been responsible for the new step. All the scientific employes of the Survey have been requested to sign an agreement, in which they pledge themselves to refrain from making any unauthorized mention of facts of a confidential nature which have in any way come to their knowledge. They further pledge themselves not to testify in litigation during their employment on the Survey and for three years after the termination of such employment not to act as experts in mining litigation concerning properties in any district in the United States upon which they have made a report. Director Smith says this is done to safeguard properly the interests of those with whom the Survey has to deal.

Georgia won a complete victory in the U. S. Supreme Court today over the Tennessee Copper Company and the Ducktown Copper Company, of Tennessee, in its long fight to stop the manufacture of copper, because sulphuric fumes from the plant spread over Georgia territory, killing vegetation and injuring health. According to a decision handed down by Justice Peckham today the claim of Georgia was sustained, and an announcement made that the court would issue an injunction next fall, against the companies, provided Georgia presses the case, and the companies do not succeed in abolishing the nuisance.

It was denied at the War Department today that there was any clash between the army and the officials of the Jamestown Exposition Company over the dinner which President Tucker, of the fair company, announced he would tender to Gen. Kuroki and Vice Admiral Ijiuin and the officers of their staffs in Norfolk tonight. General Grant, the official entertainer for the army at the exposition, had arranged to entertain the party on a house-boat in Hampton Roads during the illumination of the warships tonight; hence it was necessary for the visitors to decline the invitation of President Tucker.

Rivaling the financial genius of a Morgan or a Schwab, Myron M. Parker, former district commissioner and now a real estate promoter, was made a defendant in a suit for accounting of $160,000 in the District Supreme Court today. It is alleged in the petition filed by Abraham D. Prince et als., that certain Michigan men paid $240,000 for land sold to them by Parker which was subsequently discovered to be worth only $60,000. Parker so tied up the affairs of the syndicate turning over his interests, which he later disposed of to persons of no financial responsibility, that he manage to clear for himself and John D. Norton, a banker of Pontiac, Mich., the difference between the original purchase price on $60,000 and the selling price of $240,000 less an incumbrance of $25,000. Among those who were members of the buying syndicate were Senators Don Cameron, Vest, Sanders, ex-Representative Washington, J. M. Bell, U. S. A., and Nat Goodwin.

Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou has discovered a serious state of affairs in the Denver mint by sending several special agents there a few weeks ago to investigate complaints. Having settled these, he probed further, in his desire to ascertain how deep seated the differences were. It is understood that disclosures point to the necessity of reorganizing the entire mint force from superintendent down. The Secretary will take no action until he has received the report of the special agents.

The U. S. Supreme Court today, by a decision in the Massachusetts case of Ellis vs. the United States, upheld the constitutionality of the eight-hour law, as applied to public works.

At the State Department it is denied that at any negotiations are in progress between the United States and Japan for a treaty to define the respective spheres of influnce of the two countries in the Phillipines, Corea and Manchuria, similar to that which Japan has recently negotiated with France in relation to her Asiatic colonies.

General Kuroki.

Gen. Kuroki, the Japanese, who won victories in the war with Russia, in an interview in Washington on Saturday said:

The only glory of the soldier is that he makes peace possible. The victories in the greatest war of modern times want nothing now but the enduring happiness of peace.

Japan has only the welfare of the world at heart.

The Japanese love peace and want peace.

They fought for peace, which, without fighting, could not have been.

What could be more desirable than that all nations lay down their arms?

The Japanese officers who are organizing the hordes of China into a modern army are doing it with an eye single to the loveliness of peace.

When China masters the disorderly, forces within her she will learn the lessons of modern civilization.

Commemorative Exercises at Jamestown

Norfolk, Va., May 13.—In commemoration of the landing of the first English colony on American soil May 13, 1607, impressive ceremonies were held at Jamestown Island, on the site of the old settlement today. James Bryce, Ambassador of Great Britain, delivered the principal oration. Other speakers were Governor Swanson, of Virginia and Thomas Nelson Page.

After detailing the circumstances of the founding of the colony and its early history, Ambassador Bryce said: "The landing at Jamestown was one of the great events in the history of the world—an event to be compared forits momentous consequences with the overthrow of the Persian empire by Alexander; with the destruction of Carthage by Rome; with the conquest of Gaul by Clovis; with the taking of Constantinople by the Turks—one might almost say with the discovery of America by Columbus. There early settlers came from a free country, though its freedom had not yet been placed on a secure foundation; and the spirit of liberty and the love of self-government glowed in their hearts. Whether they had any law books, does not appear. But they carried in their breasts the principles and tradition of the common law of England, which of all the legal systems that have ever been framed is the one most fully pervaded with the spirit of liberty and the most favorable to the development of personal self reliance and individual responsibility. How the spirit of freedom went on working through the annals of colonial Virginia; how it prompted Virginia's action when an unwise English ministry, ignorant of the circumstances and feelings of the colonists, blundered into a conflict which ended in their severance from England; how the greatest of all Virginians led his colony and its fellow colonies in that conflict; how Virginia gave to the union four out of its five first presidents of—all this I must not now attempt to speak. Fifty years ago, the days of sadness and suffering, borne with the characteristic gallantry of Virginians, produced in Robert E. Lee, one of the finest characters of the age. Out of the storm, there emerged a republic which now stands more truly united than it had ever stood before. In this season of fair weather, it is natural that your eyes should look back across the sea to the ancient mother land, from whom you were for a time divided by clouds of misunderstanding that have melted away into the blue. Between here and there is now an affection and a sympathy such as perhaps there never was before in the days of your political connection. Today she rejoices with you in your prosperity and your unity. She is proud of you, and among her many achievements there is none of which she is more than this, that she laid that foundation of your vast and splendid republic."

Governor Swanson's address was very entertaining and abounded in interesting facts and apt illustrations. He graphically described the beginning of civilization in America and vividly painted the landing of the small company of English settlers at Jamestown three centuries ago, their sufferings, privations and struggles for existence and their anxieties, surrounded as they were for the most part by hostile savages. He reverted to the rise of Great Britain, describing the slow but steady growth of that nation, the influence it was destined to wield in the civilization of Europe and incidentally the new world; the conquests of England, her laws, &c. The Governor then changed the scene to the rise of the great American nation and the part it was destined to play in the world's history; the war for independence, its principals of freedom, its constitutional government, and the remarkable development of the nation under the principle of equal rights for all which had set at nought kings and parliaments. The Governor among other things said:

"The progress of this people under the prevalence of these new social and political principles has been unparalled. Our national story reads more like a romance than a history. From small settlements scattered along the Atlantic coast we have become forty-six sovereign states with possessions extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the ices of Maine to the orange blossoms of Florida. As if by magic the haunts of savages and wild beasts have been transformed into cities of splendor and magnificence. The sombre forests, with their melancholy shade, which then enveloped America, have been succeeded by green meadows, cultivated fields, rich orchards, fine farms, thriving towns and cities. The trails of buffaloes, winding through dense forests and over high mountains have been followed and laid by iron rails, carrying across a continent the greatest inland traffic ever possessed by a people. Rivers have been bridged that the wildest imagination of engineers never conceived possible. * * * The glories of its noon-tide are yet to come. Decay has not even touched the majestic fabric reared by three centuries of courageous battling."

At the close of his speech the Governor turned his attention once more to Jamestown and said: "Romance and heroism will ever envelop Jamestown with an unfading interest and lustre. The poet tells us that the lyre vibrates with sweet sound after the spirit that swept its strings has passed away. So in the coming years will Jamestown, still vibrating from the touch of her immortal dead, stir the souls of all Americans to lofty aspirations and induce them to raise the nation here founded to the highest pinnacles of goodness, greatness and glory."

Seven thousand men from the great fleet of warships in Hampton Roads participated in the parade on the exposition grounds. As battalion after battalion passed the reviewing stands they were wildly cheered. The chief of the reviewing officer was Gen. Kuroki, the Japanese hero of the Yalu. Surrounding him on the reviewing stand was a distinguished array of foreign and United States army and navy officers.

The Striking Longshoremen.

New York, May 13.—Despite the many defections in the ranks of the strike breakers early today, the big steamship companies state that other men are on their way to take their places, and they are confident that they will win out in the longshoremens strike. Lack of men to handle the freight has seriously crippled the companies, and all of their ships are leaving port with less freight aboard than usual. In many instances the crews of the vessel are doing the work of longshoremen. Outside of a few minor disturbances this morning there has been no serious troubles. The police are protecting the strike breakers and any attempt of a mob of strikers to inflict injury on the workers is nipped in the bud.

Murder entered into the strike today when the body of an unidentified Italian striker was found with the throat slashed and a score of cuts in the cellar of a tenement in Columbia street, Brooklyn. A brass check bearing the number 1,317 identified the victim as one of the longshoremen. The police have two theories on which they are working, either that the man was killed by enemies of the strike or that he was preparing to return to work and was killed by strikers. Two Italian suspects are under arrest.

There was one serious riot today when strikers and sympathizers attacked a crowd of non-union men near the Christopher street piers. The strike breakers were being escorted to the piers by a small guard of policemen when the strikers discended upon them with clubs. Officers were hurried to the spot, but before the strikers could be driven off half a dozen of the non-union men had been severely handled. Some of the strike breakers fled from the place and all the indictments offered could not coax them back to the neighborhood of the piers.

Panic on a Ferryboat.

New York, May 13.—John J. Ryan caused a small panic on the Long Island ferryboat Babylon as it was pulling into the east Thirty-fourth street slip today and incidently caused the injury of several persons when he started his machine before the boat landed. James D. Martin was thrown overboard but rescued, John McCabe was taken to a hospital with an injured ankle and Leonard Konetsky was sent home with severe injuries to his side. Just as the boat was landing Ryan started his machine. It dashed forward with a snort, running into several passengers who were crowded at the front of the boat. Martin went into the river. The machine broke the emergency chains and the front wheels went off the deck. Then passengers grabbed the machine and pulled it back on the Babylon. The noise of the automobile and shouts of the injured caused a panic among other passengers. A patrolman arrested Ryan on a charge of criminal carelessness. At the station house it was discovered he had no chauffeur's license, and an additional charge of operating an automobile without a license was placed against him.

Fleeing from Volcano.

Rome, May 13.—An erruption of Mt. Etena is predicted by Frank Perret, the Brooklyn, N. Y., scientist, as the result of observations recently completed and the residents of the vicinity have been thrown into a panic by his announcement. Already the volcano which has been in eruption for sometime, is showing signs of increased activity and this has added to the general alarm. Hundreds of persons have fled from the neighborhood of the volcano and many others are prepared to leave at any moment if the violence of the eruption increases. Much damage has already been caused by the flow of lava and the heavy rain of ashes and cinders from the crater. Prof. Perret has been engaged for some days in making obser vations at the Stromboli volanco, which has also been in eruption. His study there, he says, has convinced him the crisis is past.

Trial of a Murderess.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 13.—"Goldie" Neill, former artists' model, accused of killing her husband, James Neill, at the Greenwich Hotel on December 14 will be called to the bar here tomorrow to answer for the alleged crime. It is expected a jury can be secured within a few days. Armed with an alleged confession from the woman that she killed Neill by plunging a nail file in his eye, reaching the man's brain, the State expects to complete its case in short time. The defence promises to be more elaborate. It will outline the sad story of the unfortunate prisoners life. In some respects it will follow the lines of defense in the trial of Harry Thaw.

Riotous Strikers.

New London, May 13.—With an attempt to resume work on the double tracking improvements by the Consolidated Railway Company today on which 175 men struck for shorter hours and more pay a week ago, two clashes occurred between a squad of police and a mob of fifty striking Italians. The police used their clubs freely and the strikers used qricks and iron bars. The police finally fired their revolvers in the air and drove the strikers back. Later the mob again attacked the policemen making an arrest and another fight ensued in which many heads were battered by the clubs of the police. Several arrests were made.

Land Slip.

Geneva, Switzerland, May 13.—Kiental, a popular resort, is threatened with destruction by a large land slip which is gradually pushing the town into the river. All hotels have been evacuated and English and American visitors are camping out at cottages in the neighborhood. Many have already left for other points of safety. A great mass of earth and huge bowlders is slowing advancing on the town. Three chateaus have already been undermined and two deaths been caused. Every man and boy in the neighborhood has been ordered to work erecting barricades and digging trenches to check the progress of the land slip.

Steamer Burned.

Detroit, Mich., May 13.—The new Detroit and Cleveland steamer City of Cleveland, under construction at the Detroit ship yards, was burned to the water's edge early today, and, with the exception of her steel hull, is a complete loss. Completed the steamer would have represented an outlay of $1,500,000.

Fire in a Mine.

Mexico City, May 13. The carelessness of a miner in throwing a half-smoked cigarette in a pile of waste is to have caused the fire in the Cornethas shaft of the Ternere group of mines in Velardena in which 90 lives are believed to have been lost. Despatches received today Terreon say the fire which started Friday night is still burning and there is no hope that any of the miners will get out alive. Thirty-five charred and burned bodies had been brought out today.

Italians Win.

Norfolk, Va., May 13.—The first of the international boat race in Hampton Roads today a cutter event three miles straight away was won by the Bares, Italian, crew in 30 minutes 27 seconds. Crews from other vessels crossed the finish line as follows: Sankt George, Austrian, 32.40; Aspern, Austrian, 34:-23; Maine, American, 34:42; Iowa, American, 35:20; Chitose, Japanese, 36:-54; Tsukuba, Japanese, 38:50. The Dingby race was not pulled off;

The Corey-Gilman Wedding.

New York, May 13.—The wedding of Wm. E. Corey, head of the steel trust, to Miss Mabel Gilman, the actress, it is said to take place at the Hotel Gotham tonight. Corey has been unable to secure an Episcopal clergyman to tie the knot. One report had it that as a final resort Corey would be compelled to call in a magistrate and have a civil ceremony performed.

Town Burning

Mill Burning.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 13.—The Aetna Standard Mill at Bridgeport, O., the largest plate mill in the world, owned by the trust, is on fire, and threatened with destruction. It is valued at $2,000,000.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, May 13.—With September wheat selling at $1 to $1¼, December, at 96¼ and $1, and July, 91¢ to 97 the bull market in that cereal this morning went sailing. At the tap of the gong, the wheat pit became a seething mass of humanity and prices changed with kaleidoscopic rapidity. For a time the market had more than his share of work and could barely keep tab on the changes. Continued reports of short acreage and green damage came in to bolster the situation.

The price advances were sensational. July sold at 93 to 97: September at 95 to $1, and December at 96¼ to $1. They closed Saturday: July at 91¼ and September 93¼. Shorts in wheat led the demand. The delay in Manitoba seeding was a factor. The corn market advanced ¼¢

The December option continued its upward flight until it hit $1.03 shortly before noon Then it sagged to 99¼ and July dropped to 96¢ May sold at 93¢. The excitement had in no way subsided and the reaction was only due to natural cessation of buying by the brokers.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 13.—Strength was shown in the stock market at the opening but after the early gains were made the market reacted on the ground that the price of wheat in Chicago crossing the dollar mark would have a bad effect. Railway stocks generally made slight declines: Railroad and other bonds irregular.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Terrible Railroad Accident.

Thirty-one persons were killed and probably fifty injured in the wreck of limited northbound train No. 21 on the Southern Pacific Railroad, near Surf, a small station sixty miles north of Santa Barabara, at 2:05 Saturday afternoon. On board the train were several hundred Shriners, who had been attending the convention at Los Angeles. The wreck, which was caused by a part of the engine breaking and derailing the train, occurred near the beach. The road bed is of sand at that point, and the broken cars ploughed into it and were half buried in it.

The train caught fire immediately after the wreck, but the fire was extinguished by passengers of the two rear coaches who were uninjured.

Many of the passengers were burned and scalded to death by escaping steam. Some of them were mutilated beyond recognition.

LETTER TO OSCAR BAGGETT,

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir: Here's a tale with a point to it. Florida is the hardest State in the Union for paint.

Gilmore & Davis Co, Tallahassee, Florida, think they know what paint can do in their climate; they've been painting for 35 years. Devoe 10 years; and they say Devoe wears 10 years—their words are: "Buildings we painted Devoe 10 years ago are in good condition of paint today."

They also say lead-and-oil wears only one year there; Devoe 10 years!

Ten years is a long lifetime for paint in Florida; longer than 20 in Maine. We don't dare say that either is true as a general fact in those States; but there are such instances.

If we should call the cost of Devoe in Florida half of the unusual cost of paint, it would be too much; we suppose it's about one-third; there is so much trash there—the costliest paint is the worst, and the worst is the costliest everywhere.

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & CO.

A VALUABLE PRESCRIPTION.

The average person does not realize how much the bodily health depends upon the proper action of the kidneys and bladder, nor how widespread disorders of those organs are. It is quite safe to say that they give physicians as many sleepless nights on account of their patients as do any of the others, and perhaps it would not be too much to say that, directly and indirectly, they are chargeable with as much sickness as all the other organs of the human body combined. As a result of a vast amount of careful study, many physicians are now using with great success in the treatment of disorders traceable to the kidneys and bladder a prescription composed of ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Buchu, ½ oz Fluid Extract of Uva Ursi, 1 oz. Ameth Cordia., ½ oz. Fluid Extract of Liverwort and 15 ozs water. This is administered in doses of a tablespoonful three times a day and while the treatment is continued, which, in order that all impurities may be eliminated from the system, should be for a month, the patient is advised to drink large quantities of water. The materials called for by the prescription are carried in stock by every first-class pharmacy.

Distressing Accidents.

One boy was killed outright and another probably fatally injured by cars in Alexandria within a period of twenty-four hours. The first horror occurred last Saturday afternoon when John Quigley, fifteen-years-old, of 923 Sixth street, Washington, was crushed to death by a train on the railroad viaduct over King street extended, a few yards north of the union station. The boy had boarded a north bound train and when it reached the viaduct he was knocked from the train by the iron guard and fell upon the track. Both legs were crushed, as was also his right arm, while the lower portion of the body was cut and bruised. The boy lived but a few minutes after the accident. His remains were conveyed to Mr. B. Wheatley's undertaking establishment where they were viewed by many people Saturday and Sunday, including a large number of boys, it being supposed that some of the latter might be able to identify him. It was not, however, until late last night that any one appeared who could give any information concerning him. The identification was made by the dead boy's eighteen-year-old brother George Quigley The unfortunate youth was the son of Mrs. Catherine Quigley, whose husband, Hugh Quigley, was a well-known horse dealer in the southwestern section of Washington for many years. The boy left his home Saturday morning, saying he expected to spend the day on the river. He failed to return Saturday night, but nothing was thought of his absence until yesterday afternoon, as it had been his custom to spend nights with several of his school companions. When he failed to appear at his home yesterday, however, fears were entertained that he had met with an accident, and the brother was sent out to look for him. The brother had heard of the fatal accident to a boy near the union station and he had a premonition that his missing brother was the victim. After reaching Mr. Wheatley's establishment his nerve failed him and he feared to enter to view the remains. He finally walked in and looked at the face of the unfortunate youth and recognized it as that of his missing brother. His manifestations of grief were heart-rending. The remains have been forwarded to the home of Mrs. Quigley, in Washington.

Coroner S. T. Ashton, of Alexandria county, yesterday held an inquest over the remains of the boy. The jury was composed of William T. Duncan, E. J. Roberts, C. A. Travers, Richard Roberts, W. E. Kidwell and Joseph Travers, and the verdict was that the boy came to his death by his own carelessness in attempting to board a moving freight train on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad. It was stated at the inquest that just before the lad was killed he was with a boy about seventeen years old who hurried away and boarded a passenger train for Washington. A photograph of the body was taken.

The second horror occurred about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon on Royal street, a short distance north of Duke, when William, the six year-old son of Mr. Michael Creegan, was struck by a north bound electric car and both legs crushed. The accident occurred almost opposite the home of the unfortunate child, 217 south Royal street, and at a time when the streets were thronged with people, many of whom flocked to the scene. The little boy had been at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall, a short distance from the scene of the accident, with his father, and had started home alone. The approaching car did not seem to attract his attention, and almost before he was aware of his danger he was struck and knocked down under the wheels. Policeman Garvey and Mr. Joseph Nowland, who were near by and witnessed the accident, picked the child up and hurried with him to the Alexandria Hospital, where in a short while Drs. William M. Smith, E. A. Gorman, Arthur Snowden, and S. B. Moore held a consultation. It was decided that a successful operation would be impossible.

Today however, the boy had rallied and it was decided to operate upon him this afternoon when both legs were amputated.

John S. Barker, the motorman of the car, and Richard Acton, the conductor, were subsequently arrested by Officers Garvey and Knight by direction of Lieutenant Smith and arraigned before Justice Caton, who held them under $1,000 real estate bond each for a further hearing tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Commonwealth's Attorney Brent was present at the investigation and conducted the examination. Policeman Garvey testified that he was less than a square away and saw the child's danger and endeavored to signal to the motorman. Motorman Barker said that he was running at a rate not exceeding ten miles an hour, but that it would have been impossible for him to stop the car in time to save the child if he had been running only three miles an hour, as he was compelled to depend upon a hand brake instead of compressed air. He said as soon as he saw the child he reversed the controller and commenced to apply the brake, at the same time shouting to the little fellow to stop.

The conductor said that he was standing to the left of the motorman, and that a man, who had just come into the motor cab, was at his right. Both the conductor and motorman admitted that they had forgotten to change the fender from one end of the car to the other. It was explained that the car, No. 6, has a motor at each end, and that the fender is supposed to be changed from one end to the other at each terminus. The car is not equipped with an air brake. Mr. Brent contended that both the motorman and conductor should be held responsible, and a charge of malicious wounding and injuring the child was entered against them. Mr. Martin P. Greene became bondsman for Barker and Acton, and they were released, pending the hearing tomorrow.

The Adams Express Company has introduced a delivery automobile in this city.

Brewer Drowned.

Alouies Burkley, a brewer, was drowned in the Potomac, just north of this city, yesterday evening. Burkley and J. Charles Schmith were rowing in a small batteau, which began to ship water. It appeared that the boat would sink, and Schmith jumped overboard and started to swim. Burkley, although he could not swim, followed his companion overboard grabbing him in the water. Schmith, managed to make his way to the surface, and was picked up by men who had gone out in a boat. Burkley remained under water for about five minutes before he was located. When he was brought to the surface life was not extinct, and active efforts were made to resuscitate him. Dr. Lewellyn Powell, who happened to be riding in the vicinity, attempted artificial respiration and administered stimulants, but without avail. Burkley was employed in the Portner Brewery. He had recently come to this country from Germany, and had been in Alexandria only a few months. He was 26 years old. When Schmith jumped overboard it was his intention to tow the boat ashore, he supposing Burkley, who could not swim, would remain in the boat. He, however, seemed to lose his head and followed his companion. Burkley's body was removed to Mr. B. Wheatley's undertaking establishment, and Dr. S. B. Moore, the coronor, was notified. He said that he would issue a certificate of accidental death.

Death of Mr. J. H. Watkins.

Mr. John H. Watkins, of this city, died at Providence Hospital, Washington, last Saturday night. The remains were brought to his home, 1011 King street, yesterday The deceased was a well-known and popular resident of this city, and the announcement of his death brought forth many expressions of regret. Mr. Watkins was one of the oldest locomotive engineers in the employ of the Southern Railway Company and during his long career had passed through some thrilling scenes. He was engineer of the passenger train which crashed through the "Fat Nancy" trestle about twenty years ago, by which accident eight persons were killed. In an accident a few years ago Mr. Watkins had a portion of one side of his face torn away. The deceased was in the fifty-eighth year of his age. He was a son of the late T. J. Watkins, of West End. His wife and four children survive him. His children are Miss Emma Watkins, Mrs. Bettie Rosson, and Lee Watkins, of this city, and Thomas Watkins, of Washington. Mr. Watkins was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of the Knights of Honor and of the Royal Arcanum. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the late residence of the deceased.

Masonic Event.

Friday night will long be remembered by Fredericksburg Lodge No. 4 and its guests as one of the most enjoyable occasions in its history. One of the largest assemblages of Masons seen here for some time was present when the lodge opened to greet and welcome Grand Masters S. J. Quinn and Grand Junior Warden P. K. Bauman, of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, and District Deputy Grand Master H. H. Johnston, of this Masonic district. In addition to the members of Fredericksburg Lodge, there were present Senior Warden J. E. Shinn and Junior Warden R. W. Fuller, of Alexandria-Washington Lodge No. 22, and a number of visiting brethern from other lodges. The work, which was in the third degree, was beautifully performed, the Alexandria officers occupying the chairs. After the adjournment of the lodge all present repaired to the Exchange Hotel, where a handsome banquet was spread. Worshipful Master J. P. Stiff presided and short, but interesting, speeches were made by Grand Master Quinn, Grand Senior Warden Bauman, District Deputy Grand Master Johnston and Senior Warden Shinn. It was past one o'clock before the banquetters dispersed, after enjoying an evening of unalloyed pleasure.—[Fredericksburg Star.

Ascension Day Services.

The members of Old Dominion Commandery, K. T., met at their asylum yesterday evening and, in a body and wearing their full and handsome regalia, marched to St. Paul's Church, where the rector, Rev. P. P. Phillips, preached a special sermon on the "Ascension of Christ." The Templars were met at the doors of the church by the vested choir of St. Paul's Church, augmented by members of the various other choirs, and to the hymn "Onward, Christian Soldiers," marched into the edifice and took seats near the chancel. A special musical programme was rendered and the full choral service was used, including the "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis" in "a" by Marks, and hymns appropriate for the day. At the offertory the choir sang "Unfold, Ye Portals" from Gounod's "Redemption." The music was under the direction of Mr. Sherman B. Fowler, director of the choir, and was greatly enjoyed. The services throughout were very impressive and interesting and a large congregation was in attendence.

TO THE MERCHANTS, MANUFACTURERS AND CITIZENS OF ALEXANDRIA:

It is a source of gratification for me to state that I have succeeded in selling over 18,000 of my proposed book "Historic Alexandria," which assures the issuance of not less than 25,000 copies for the first edition, instead of 20,000 as was first promised.

It has been a physical impossibility for me to visit anything like all of our manufacturers, wholesalers and merchants and I take this means to state that the few remaining pages to be illustrated with factories, stores and residences will soon be exhausted. I would have been glad to have been able to have seen all personally but it has been impossible and therefore I take this means to notify all interested in securing an illustration in this work, (which is now in the hands of the printer), that they must let me know at once the number of books they desire. The price for 100 books, including ¼ page illustration is $12.50, for 200 books with ¼ page $25.00 and for 400 books with whole page is $50.00. Respectfully,

A. J. WEDDERBURN.

Alexandria Gazette.

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 13 1907.

Brief Honeymoon.

A brief honeymoon has been the portion of Mrs. Frederick Mariani, formerly the comely Bessie Flourney Johnson, daughter of the millionaire mayor of Cleveland, Tom Johnson. She has been spending two weeks alone at the Hotel Warrington, New York, while the handsome young Italian she married at her palatial Cleveland home on March 23 has gone back to his old bachelor quarters at the Stratford.

The ending of the young pair's happiness in grief and parting has come in spite of all the efforts of Mrs. Mariani's father and mother to avoid a scandal. Mrs. Johnson is seriously ill in a sanitarium in New York. Her illness followed her vain efforts, it is said, to heal the breach between her daughter and the new son-in-law. Tom Johnson, who went on to New York soon after his wife, and on the same errand, is quartered at the Manhattan Club, where he refuses to see reporters or discuss the case in any way.

About a month after the wedding festivities Mariani registered at the Stratford, his residence of bachelor days. There he has stayed ever since. During the later days of April Mrs. Mariani had taken up her separate residence at the Warrington, where she has likewise remained ever since.

Baby's Long Name.

The name of the Spanish baby will be Alfonso Pio Christino Eduardo Francisco Guillerma Carlos Enrique Eugino Fernando Antonio Vesuncior.

It is stated that King Edward expressed a desire to be godfather to the infant. King Alfonso was regretfully compelled to say that the Pope must be the sponsor, according to immemorial tradition.

The Queen and the baby are both doing perfectly. The birth was registered yesterday, the witnesses being Infante Carlos, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Prime Minister Maura and the head of the royal household. The king leaves the queen as little as possible. He dines in her room.

Call at our store, please, for a free sample of Dr. Shoop's "Health Coffee." If real coffee disturbs your Stomach, your Heart or Kidneys, then try this Clever Coffee imitation. While Dr. Shoop has very closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet he has not even a single grain of real Coffee in it. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted grains or cereals, with Malt, Nuts, etc. You will surely like Health Coffee. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

Gets Her Relics Back.

By the judgment of a Paris court, the ex-Empress Eugenie is authorized to take possession of certain objects now in various French palaces and museums, on the ground that they were the private property of Napoleon III. One of the reasons given in their decision by the judges was that the articles in question were of no interest either from the point of view of art or of history. They include a book given by the Pope to Napoleon I., a portrait of Louis XVI. by Lebrun, a sword of Napoleon I., the bit of the horse Napoleon rode at Waterloo, the bench on which Napoleon often sat at St. Helena and a box which belonged to St. Louis.

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
